Free Prisoners Talk of Hitting Castro Again

By THEODORE A. EDIGER

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Talk of another possible thrust against Fidel Castro surged through the Cuban exile colony today even as freed prisoners of the last attempt were reunited with newly arrived relatives.

The relatives, numbering more than 900, came aboard the African Pilot, the vessel that took food and medicine ransom supplies to Castro for release of 1,113 captives taken in the April 1961. Bay of Pigs invasion.

"We shall return," proclaimed Manuel Artime, civilian leader of the attack expedition, who along with other invasion chiefs met with President Kennedy in Palm Beach Thursday.

"Papa Kennedy," as ex-prisoners call the man in the White House, announced that he will attend a ceremony in the Orange Bowl Saturday honoring the brigade. Exiles looking toward future anti-Castro action interpreted this as a hopeful sign.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council, which dispatched the brigade to the Bay of Pigs, declared:

"An irrevocable resolution unites all of them (the returned prisoners) to return to Cuba with arms in hand to liberate the country from degrading and brutal vassalage to Soviet Russia."

Several hundred of the 463 women, 217 men and 242 children who arrived on the African Pilot were quartered in a spacious Miami building provided by the Cuban Refugee Center. The center, operated by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, also provided meals for returnees until they got settled. Others went to homes of friends or relatives.

The Cuban Families Committee, which, through New York attorney James B. Donovan and with U.S. government help, sponsored the return of the prisoners, reported another boatload of relatives will come.

"The next boat that takes supplies of medicines and foodstuffs to Havana will return with 2,000 more Cubans," said a committee official.

There was no immediate confirmation of this.

Kennedy told the Cuban delegation in Palm Beach that he "hopes some day to visit a free Cuba."

With Artime to see the President were Jose Perez San Roman, military commander of the invasion brigade, and his first assistant, Ernesto Oliva.

The President will address Cubans in the Orange Bowl ceremonies in which the ex-prisoners will give Kennedy their invasion flag.

Feeling persisted among exiles that freeing of the prisoners removed one of the obstacles for anti-Castro action.

The revolutionary council, headed by Dr. Jose Miró Cardona, whose son returned with the prisoner group, declared:

"This legion of patriots must be the vanguard of a great Pan American crusade against communist forces that make bloody an droplet shadows of slavery over the entire hemisphere."

The statement added: "The presence in exile of Brigade 2506 will be a stimulus to continue the fight."

The council urged all exiles of military age to enlist in the U.S. armed forces. Some 2,000 already have done so.

The refugees aboard the African Pilot on its return from Havana, where it took a ransom down payment of $11 million in supplies, were the first large number reaching Florida since airline service from Havana was halted with the Cuban crisis. They were taken in 30 buses to a large Miami auditorium to meet their prisoner relatives.

Politics Rated Top Story in Arkansas During Year, Rainmaker Rates High Too

4.2 Million
Chicks Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas producers started 4,265,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Dec. 22, the Crop Reporting Service of the Agriculture Department estimated today.

This is three per cent more than the figure for the previous week. Of the total placements in the state, 3,690,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 575,000 came from other states.

There were 289,000 broiler chicks shipped out of the state during the week. The estimated total of 5,785,000 eggs set for broiler-type chicks in Arkansas during the week was two per cent below the previous week.

Fighting Is Reported in Katanga

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Katanga troops were reported fighting U.N. forces in Elisabethville today with casualties on both sides. Diplomatic reports reaching Europe from the African trouble spot said efforts were being made for a cease-fire.

The Belgian radio, quoting diplomatic sources, described fighting as very violent. It said U.N. representative Eliud Mathu was trying to reach President Moise Tshombe of Katanga to bring a halt to the fighting. Shooting was said to have begun Thursday night on the outskirts of the Katanga capital and continued all night.

In London, the British government said the U.S. and British consuls in Elisabethville sought also to arrange a cease-fire.

There was no direct information from Elisabethville. Telegraph and telephone communications between there and Brussels were interrupted.

Reports from Northern Rhodesia quoted Tshombe as saying the U.N. troops were shelling the European quarter of Elisabethville, and endangering civilian lives. The reports said Tshombe claims U.N. shells had fallen on a hospital, wounding a nurse. Tshombe said U.N. forces opened fire without warning in the European section of Elisabethville and that Europeans were caught in the thick of a battle, according to the reports.

"Katanga has seceded from the Congo central government based in Leopoldville and the United Nations has been pressing Tshombe to bring his mineral-rich province under Leopoldville's control. The larger part of the United Nations' 19,000-man Congo force is reported to be in Katanga."

The revolutionary council, headed by Dr. Jose Miró Cardona, whose son returned with the prisoner group, declared:

Puncture of the Republican political balloon by the victories of Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Sen. J. William Fulbright heads the list of top news stories in Arkansas in 1962.

Politics was the big story from early April when primary fields began shaping up until Nov. 6 when Democrats bulldozed GOP opponents on local and state levels.

Aside from politics: The weather took its usual share of the headlines with a massive snowstorm in January and droughts in May and August. The August drought turned the spotlight on Maj. Homer Berry of North Little Rock, a self-styled rainmaker who called the shot on a cloudburst in Little Rock.

Paladino family die in a fire which destroyed their home in the Catholic Point community in Conway County Jan. 16. Within the next two weeks five children died in a fire at Charleston and four more in a fire near Pine Bluff.

Thurman McCool, 48, a Pine Bluff businessman who had served a prison term for forging $85,000 worth of state warrants, was found shot to death Jan. 13 in a car near Sheridan. The case remains unsolved.

The Arkansas Razorbacks had a fourth straight banner season, finishing with a 9-1 record and taking a Sugar Bowl bid. But the Porkers yielded the Southwest Conference title to Texas (which beat them 7-3) after winning or sharing the crown in three successive seasons.

Bill Bradley, 9, of El Dorado was struck by a bolt of lightning and blinded during a Little League baseball tryout. His injury laid subsequent operations to restore his sight provided the year's best human interest story.

Elmer Ross, a 45-year-old marshal at Ashdown, was shot and wounded after he stopped five Fort Smith teen-agers in a stolen car. The youth who allegedly pulled the trigger, Fred Bynum, 18, shot and killed himself and the others were captured after a brief manhunt.

Clodis McCuic, a 24-year-old Negro laborer, grabbed Mrs. Nelly Harrison, a white woman, as she was about to be hit by a train at Altheimer Aug. 28. She pulled out of his grasp and was struck and killed.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Barnard, their two children and his mother Mrs. Lloyd Roberts, all of De Witt, were fatally injured in a car-train collision near Stuttgart March 30.

U.S. Enters Crippling Dock Strike

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz has re-entered the crippling dock strike with an urgent plea to both longshoremen and ship owners to resume negotiations in the name of the national interest.

The International Longshoremen's Association's chief negotiator, however, said only a new proposal by the ship owners can break the deadlock. And he expressed doubt about an early end to the six-day strike along the East and Gulf Coasts.

These developments came as the strike saw its first flareup of violence — the shooting of a dockworker who crossed ILA picket lines in Galveston, Tex. The no-union worker was wounded in a foot.

The current strike actually started last October, went on for four days and was halted by a Taft-Hartley law injunction. It was resumed at the expiration of an 90-day cooling off period.

Wirtz, who has been out of the negotiations since the ILA and the ship owners held their last joint bargaining session before the strike started Sunday, scheduled separate meetings with each side.

The labor secretary set a meeting for 4 p.m. today with representatives of the New York Shipping Association, which represents 135 domestic and foreign lines. He set a meeting for 11 a.m. Saturday with the ILA.

Wirtz sent telegrams Thursday to both sides saying: "It is imperative to the national interest that negotiations be resumed."

The strike of 60,000 longshoremen has effectively closed all East and Gulf Coast ports to all but military, emergency and dangerous cargoes, which the union itself has exempted from the strike provisions.

The ILA executive vice president and chief union negotiator, Thomas W. Gleason, said only a new proposal by the shippers could help at this point.

Gleason, who set a meeting of the ILA's wage scale committee for this afternoon, said he didn't think the strike would end in the next few days no matter what, since any agreement reached would have to be ratified by the union members.

In Galveston, Tex., where the Texas Forwarding Co. has been using dockworkers not belonging to the ILA to unload banana boats, Robert L. James, 37, was shot in the left foot Thursday night while he and another man were working by a conveyor belt unloading a Swedish banana boat.

It was James' first day on the job. He said he had been out of work since last March.

James indicated he would not return to the docks.

Ben Klein, owner of the Texas Forwarding Co., had said earlier the ILA was not going to put him out of business and that he intended to keep working the banana boats. Another boat was due today.

Wet, Gloomy Weather Hits State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wet, gloomy weather engulfed Arkansas today with some sleet in the central part in the face of rising temperatures throughout the state.

Warm, moisture-laden Gulf air moved into the state Thursday. It brought rain and stabilized temperatures.

Rain began in western Arkansas before dawn and moved into the central part by daybreak. Then scattered sleet was reported in the central section.

The Weather Bureau in Little Rock said the rain would spread throughout the state today and occasional showers and thundershowers would continue through Saturday and most of Sunday.

Temperatures were expected to reach the mid 40s to 50 today. Tonight lows were expected to be between 40 and 45.

The cloud cover kept overnight low readings mostly in the high 20s and low 30s. Little Rock reported a low of 24. Fayetteville had a reading of 25 and Walnut Ridge reported a 26-degree reading. Gilbert reported 21 and Mountain Home and Beaver each had 22-degree lows.

The Weather Bureau forecast a slight cooling trend beginning at the first of the week.

This trend, the Weather Bureau said, will be caused by a strong low pressure system now located over north central Montana.

The cold front was moving rapidly but forecasters said it was still too early to say just what it had in store for Arkansas.

The house is located four miles north of Springdale on the Old Wire Road just off U. S. Highway 71.

Changes in S. Security Since 1949

By DAN MORPHEW

Question: "My husband died 5-20-49. At that time I had two children under age 18. I applied for Social Security benefits and was told that my husband had not worked long enough under work covered by Social Security for benefits to be paid. I will be 62 soon. Have there been any changes which might make it possible for me to receive widow's benefits at age 62?" Mrs. A. D. F.

Answer: Yes, there have been many changes since 1949. Perhaps you could qualify now. You should take your deceased husband's social security account number, your marriage certificate, and any proof of your age you might have to your nearest Social Security Office or Representative to file an application. An application may be filed 3 months before you are 62. (There has been no change in the Social Security law since 8-61).

JFK Takes a New Look at Health Deal

By FRANK CORMIER

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Kennedy takes a new look today at the administration's health, welfare and education proposals—some of the most controversial items tagged for congressional action in 1963.

Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze flew to this seaside resort city Thursday to prepare for a mid-morning conference with Kennedy on the Welfare Department's new budget and legislative recommendations.

Accompanying Celebrezze were Assistant Secretary Wilbur J. Cohen and Francis Keppel, the new commissioner of education.

Although all department programs were slated for review, Keppel's presence indicated a major emphasis on education proposals that failed at the last session of Congress.

New proposals the administration is expected to endorse include expanded aid to the mentally retarded and promotion of vocational education.

Kennedy also is expected to renew his advocacy of more federal aid for schools and colleges and expanded student loan and adult education programs.

The President turns his attention to these matters following two days of meetings on his 1963 tax cut plan and a lengthy session with Pentagon leaders on military spending.

Underlying all the talks was the need to pin down final figures for the federal budget which goes to Congress next month. This bulky document will call for outlays of about $99 billion—a new high—in the 12 months starting July 1.

The administration hopes to get a new budget director on the payroll today—provided a qualified Floridian is found to administer the oath.

Kenneth Gordon, who has been a member of Kennedy's three-man Council of Economic Advisors, is to take over the job from David E. Bell, sworn in last week as foreign aid administrator.

Plans were made to swear in Gordon at a brief ceremony at Kennedy's vacation headquarters. However, a search was on to locate someone qualified under Florida laws to administer official oaths. None of the White House functionaries on the scene was qualified.

Minor Damage in Accident Here

This morning at the curve on Third and Shover an auto driven by Celia A. Pearson, Springfield, Ill., skidded into another car driven by James Gaines of Hope.

Only minor damage resulted. City Police said the Illinois car came into the curve too fast and skidded on the railroad pavement into the Gaines car which had come to a stop.

Officers Martin and McCulley charged Celia Pearson with hazardous driving.

Police also announced the arrest of J. A. Prater, Negro, in connection with the theft of a radio from a local store. Officers Brown, McCulley and Martin recovered the radio from Prater's auto at his home. He was charged with petit larceny.

Florida Bros. Get Expenses

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Accounting service expenditures of $20,000 from the assets of Andrew and George Florida of Osceola have been authorized by federal Judge J. Smith Henley.

The assets of the two Floridas are in receivership pending the outcome of a lawsuit in which the Internal Revenue Service is seeking a judgment for $9,542,742 in income taxes, penalties and interest. The case, tried by Henley last spring, is under advisement.

Thomas P. Florida said in a petition his brothers had a bill of $28,592 from a Memphis accounting firm for services performed in connection with the trial.

Henley said he thought $20,000 was a reasonable figure.

AMERICA'S FIRST JET—Twentieth anniversary of the flight of America's first jet airplane was observed recently. The Bell XP-59A was literally shrouded in security wraps, top photo, when it was towed along desert roads in October 1942 to the take-off point at Muroc, Calif., now site of Edwards AFB, world-renowned experimental flight center. A dummy propeller was attached to its nose and air intakes and fuselage were covered. Test pilot Robert Stanley made the first flights at modest speeds only 100 feet off the ground. Later, the plane was pushed to 450 m.p.h. and an altitude of 30,000 feet. Bottom photo shows it during a subsequent test flight. No U.S. jet saw action in World War II, however. Engines of today's twice-the-speed-of-sound planes are 15 times the power of those used in the XP-59A.

Man, Woman of the Year

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Kenneth S. Bates of Little Rock and Dr. Evelyn Cox of Fayetteville have been named 1962's Man and Woman of the Year for service to Arkansas agriculture and rural women, respectively.
Bates, assistant director of the agricultural extension service, started with the extension service in the 1930s as an assistant county agent. He was cited for organizing, promoting and leading a variety of farm programs.
Dr. Cox, head of the home economics department at the University of Arkansas, was selected because of her work in rural areas and for her work at the university, where enrollment in home economics classes has increased 60 per cent since she became head of the department.
The selections were announced by Ed Wilborn, editor of the sponsoring Progressive Farmer Magazine.

eral thousand dollars worth of tickets to unscheduled performances of the Grand Ole Opry at Fayetteville and Fort Smith in September.

Politics normally dominates the news picture in even years, but interest was especially heavy this year as Winthrop Rockefeller, GOP national committeeman, primed Republicans for their biggest election effort in recent history.

The GOP put up candidates for four major offices — the governorship, the Senate and two U.S. House seats.

But before the general election campaign started, Faubus had to get past five Democratic primary opponents, including former Gov. Sid McMath and Rep. Dale Alford, and Fulbright had his first primary opponent since 1944 in Winston Chandler, a Little Rock businessman.

Faubus was victorious in the first primary, gathering 51.3 percent of the vote, his lowest share in any race as an incumbent. Fulbright disposed of Chandler by two to one and gained experience in fighting Chandler's conservative campaign that was to prove valuable later against the Republican, Dr. Ken Jones, who also dwelled on conservatism.

Fulbright beat Jones worse than he did Chandler and the Republicans began talking about 1964. Faubus and Reps. J. W. Trimble and Oren Harris polished off their

Existing Programs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. David W. Mullins, president of the University of Arkansas, said here Wednesday that the institution's first obligation was to support its existing programs and that it would not think of starting new programs unless it gets enough money. Mullins made the statement in reference to the fate of the Arkansas Law School, a private Little Rock institution which the university has considered taking over. The state Legislative Council has recommended $1 million more in state funds for the university, but the institution had sought $2.4 million.

Collision Fatal

OSCEOLA, Ark. (AP)—A Negro woman of the Carson Lake community in Mississippi County was killed and six persons were injured in a head-on collision of two cars near Osceola Wednesday. State police said the victim, Reala Dority, 17, was a passenger in a car driven by Earl Dority, 18, of the same address. Injured in that car were Helen Dority, 18; John Chandler, 18; Viola Watson, 15; Frank Young, 17 and Earl Dority, police said. All are Negroes. The Dority car collided with an auto driven by Bert Atkins, 52, of Memphis, police said. Atkins was also injured.

GOP opponents easily.

Arguments about whether Berry could make rain raged across that state, but he collected at least $1,600 for his weather control efforts — $500 from a radio station for the Little Rock shower, $600 from farmers in the Weiner area for a general rain and $500 for keeping rain away during the state Livestock Exposition in October. After the livestock show success, Berry said he would give Arkansas children a white Christmas and, sure enough, most areas of the state had snow on Christmas Eve.

The U. S. Weather Bureau remained unconvinced that Berry had any effect on the weather.

DOROTHY DIX

Can Mrs. Santa's Role Be Overplayed?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: This Christmas set me thinking. Ever since my husband died in 1943 and left me with two boys (one his and one ours), I've been doing and giving.

The stepson got along fine, joined the Service, married and lives in another state. It's my own son and his family that's the problem.

When he married, I took his wife in my home along with him. They were so young and had so little. To help out and give them more time to themselves, I got a position as resident housekeeper in a hotel and just stayed home weekends.

Then the babies began to come — three in all, and I started buying them clothes and toys. They were cute kids and I loved them so it was no sacrifice.

Weekend before Christmas I bought a tree. My son set it up and together we trimmed it with ornaments I've had since he and his half-brother were little. His wife wouldn't help us but I paid no attention for she gets like that sometimes.

Christmas morning early I put all the presents I'd bought around the tree—it looked real pretty —then went back to bed. When I came out to breakfast, my presents were still the only ones there. The children began clamoring to open their gifts so I said, "Come on, let's get going. I'll be Mrs. Santa Claus," and started handing out my gifts.

"Christmas is for the kids," my son said, looking sheepish.

"It's yours to give and ours to receive," said his wife.

I kept my mouth shut because it was Christmas but—I was real hurt. If she'd bought some little do-dad that cost less than a dollar, I'd have understood but to give me nothing when I'd been so good to them!

Well, I went off to my room and didn't come out till time to help with dinner. My daughter-in-law acted like I had no business in my own kitchen. Still I said nothing.

That night, after we'd all gone to bed, I heard one of the children coughing. Since nobody seemed to be helping the poor little thing, I slipped on my dressing gown and hurried to the children's room. I was just about to give him some cough syrup when his mother comes charging in like a bull screaming, "Get out! Mind your own business!" Her tantrum brought my son to the scene.

"How can you talk that way to Mom when she treats us so good?" he said. "You don't know when you're well off."

I went back to my room but not to sleep and as soon as daylight came, left. I don't feel like going home ever again and yet, it is mine. Should I rent an apartment and go there on weekends? —Only Me

Dear Only: No. For their good as well as your own peace of mind, force them to stand on their own feet. Say, "The time has come for you to find living quarters elsewhere. This is my home. I'll pay for your moving and first month's rent. After that you're on your own!" And mean it. No mother-in-law interference—even in loving kindness. While helping, you were also hindering, which probably explains your daughter-in-law's blind resentment.

Instinctively, she feared you were usurping her as a mother. To that extent she is right. "Mind your own business." There are several leaflets of mine which could be of help: "Mothers-in-law," "Are You Sensitive?" and "Ten Commandments for Happiness." Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for one or all.

Dear Helen: My daughter calls her boy friend on the phone every morning. I tell her he should be doing the calling. She retorts that they're on a 50-50 basis for he phones her every night. He has just turned 19 and she is 16. When I tell her to be home by midnight they say it's too early because he must drive the 20 miles from his home here, then take her to the show and after for something to eat. They think I'm terrible strict. What do you think? —Worried Mother

Dear Worried: I think you're doing exactly right. If the boy really loves your daughter he'll want to protect her as much as you do. I believe he would be that much more eager if she left the phone-calling to him. He'll lose interest if she continues to take the aggressive.

It behooves you as her mother to have a pretty frank talk with both of them. What are their future plans? Is he in college? Does she want a college education? A college degree is practically a necessity today if either hopes to land a worthwhile job. If they are serious about each other, they should be correspondingly serious about life.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "On Being Popular."

Additions to Staff by Mr. Harris

MONTICELLO, Ark. (Special) - Congressman Oren Harris today announced his staff for the 80th congress as follows:

Willie Harris, his brother, will continue in the position of administrative assistant to the congressman. He is a native of Hempstead county, with residence at Hope. He has been in the congressman's office during the twenty-two years in which Harris has served his district in Washington.

Mrs. Ruth Collins will continue as secretary to the congressman's staff. A resident of Ashdown, Little River county, she is a former court reporter for the Judicial Circuit and worked in Congressman Boyd Tackett. She has been in Harris' office for the last 10 years.

Mrs. Gladys Johnson will continue in the office as a secretary. She has worked in the congressman's offices in Washington and El Dorado for the last several years.

Mrs. Hazel J. Collie will join the congressman's staff as a secretary. She is a native of Hot Springs county with residence at Malvern. She is presently working on the staff of Mrs. Norrell, and was secretary to the late Congressman Norrell for some 12 years.

Mrs. Phoebe Wilkinson will become a member of the congressman's staff as a secretary. She, too, is presently on the staff of Mrs. Norrell and was on the staff of Norrell for some 15 years. She is also from Malvern.

Frank C. Ryburn, who presently lives in Pine Bluff will serve Harris as an assistant. He is a native of Cleveland county, and formerly lived in Eudora where he taught school prior to World War II. He served in the navy during World War II and also in a former Monticello businessman. His father is superintendent of schools at Parkdale, where he has taught for some 27 years. Mr. Ryburn is a nephew of General E. L. Compere of El Dorado.

Wally Biscoe will join the staff as a legislative research analyst. He will co-ordinate the legislative and research work between the congressman's office and the committee. He is a resident of Pine Bluff where he graduated from high school in 1945. He attended the University of Missouri, University of Louisville, and Indiana University. He formerly was with radio station KCLA in Pine Bluff, and for several years was studio manager of the Pine Bluff station of KATV.

Ed Williamson, of Magnolia, will continue as clerk of the Committee on Interstate and foreign commerce, of which committee Congressman Harris is the chairman.

I am fortunate to get a highly dous workload that I will have in representing the twenty-eight county expanded congressional district and the responsibility as chairman of the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce," Harris said. With this fine staff of people I feel that I will be able to adequately serve the district and assume the important responsibility as chairman of a great committee.

"In addition, I will be responsible for supervising some 25 staff members of the regular committee and the special subcommittee."

Mass Echoed Over World From Hungary

By LOYAL GOULD

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) - The strains of a baroque Mass echoed throughout the vaulted domes of a Roman Catholic church in Budapest.

The 50-member choir ended its singing and the voice of a priest rose in an exhortation for peace among nations and understanding between men of different political persuasions.

The scene took place on a recent Sunday in Budapest's Matyas Church, a multi-spired Gothic cathedral overlooking the Danube from atop the river's bluffs.

The following day, the churchgoers read front-page editorials on atheism in their morning newspapers while their children attended compulsory classes on atheism.

The situation symbolizes the present relationship between the church and the government in Communist Hungary - a tacit agreement to tolerate one another.

"The regime recognizes the religious attitude of the majority of Hungarians," an informant said, "while at the same time encouraging atheism, especially among the young people."

"The church for its part," he continued, "is careful to avoid saying anything that could be considered anti-regime, concentrating instead on generalities such as peace and brotherhood."

It has not always been this way in Hungary. Before the 1956 revolution, the country's Stalinist regime tried to strangle the church by obstructing its activities by every possible means.

The regime, to be sure, has not given up completely its attempts to turn the populace to atheism. But experience has taught that little can be done with the older citizenry, so the government is centering its attentions largely on youth.

The campaign, however, has not achieved the success its organizers had hoped.

Communist officials readily admit that a few young people have been influenced and that attempts in rural areas to substitute atheist forms for weddings, christenings and funerals have had little success.

Studies Siamese Twin Separation

MEMPHIS (AP) - A medical study is under way to see if Siamese twin girls, born to the wife of an Arkansas Air Force airman, can be separated by surgery.

The twins, totaling 12 1/2 pounds at birth, are joined at the chest and abdomen.

They were delivered by Caesarean operation Christmas Day at the Blytheville, Ark., Air Force Base.

NORMAN ROWLAND
HOPE, Ark. (AP) — Loyola Chicago were down the Ar Razorbacks with a relentless break Thursday night in the first round of the All-College basketball tournament.

The nation's third-ranked team will meet Memphis State, winner over Toledo, in the quarterfinals.

Loyola, highest scoring in the nation with an average of more than 100 points per game, overcame the Razorbacks' own tactics with left pass-and-shoot shooting from the perimeter.

Loyola took the lead at eight minutes gone when Egan sank a pair of free throws and was never headed. The lowest score for the Razorbacks was 23 points.

For Arkansas was Larry Ford with 12.

Many farmers have their short-term debts completely out-of-balance with their long-term obligations. Good farm management requires that operating or short-term credit be kept in balance with capital or long-term credit. Proper balance enables orderly retirement of all obligations without repayment being a burden.

Thousands of farmers have found that a LAND BANK LOAN provides the key to a balanced debt load. It could well be the answer to your credit problem.

Porks Prepare for Sugar Bowl Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — "Getting ready for a bowl game is like preparing for the first one of the season," says Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles, who is preparing the Razorbacks for their New Year's Day test against undefeated Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl.

Broyles put the Porks through two closed-door training sessions yesterday at the Razorback training camp at Biloxi, Miss.

Meanwhile, Ole Miss Coach Johnny Vaught sent his Rebels through a brisk 90 minute drill in 30 degree temperature without pads. The Rebels also got a blackboard drill and viewed Arkansas game films.

Rain hampered the morning workout in the Arkansas camp. "We didn't get much done because of the rain," Broyles said. "We are a long way from throwing and catching the ball."

The weather improved for their 1 1/2 hour afternoon drill. Broyles concentrated on offensive tactics and also on defense against Mississippi's high-flying offense.

He plans to continue his two-day workouts today. The Saturday schedule is indefinite but Broyles said earlier he would maintain the two workouts until he felt the team could slacken off its training pace.

Vaught put the Rebels through a comprehensive workout emphasizing offensive running, pass patterns and the kicking game.

He plans an indoor blackboard session today and only one drill outdoors.

Vaught continued to sing the praises of Arkansas, but said he was not happy about his own team.

"We performed 100 per cent in the LSU game, but I've been disappointed since then," he said. Vaught's club beat Louisiana State 15-7 this year for his first triumph over the Tigers since 1957.

Move Apparently a Good Deal
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"What are they doing?" moaned a New York hockey buff a few weeks ago when the Rangers' brain trust broke up the Andy Bathgate-Dean Prentice-Earl Ingarfield line and moved Prentice onto another line. "That's the only good thing about the Rangers."

That irked individual apparently knew what he was moaning about because this trio, since re-united, has been one of the brightest features of the Blueshirts' play recently.

Thursday night, the No. 1 line clicked for 14 points as New York walloped Boston 9-3 in the only game on the National Hockey League slate. The Rangers' goal count was the highest this season.

Bathgate had a goal and four assists to take over the circuit's scoring lead with 37 points, one more than Toronto's Frank Mahovlich. Ingarfield had two goals and three assists while Prentice picked up two goals and two assists. It was the sixth straight game in which Bathgate has scored.

Marschalls Big Gun for Loyola Team

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

First it was James Naismith and a peach basket. Now it's Paul Marschalls and a squashed basketball. And between the inventor and the innovator, Loyola of Chicago has turned a matter of inches into a huge advantage.

On the second day of the holiday tournament scramble Thursday some favorites felt like Santa climbing down the chimney—not much room to spare—but it was a different story for the powerful Ramblers.

The nation's highest scoring basketball team, undefeated and third-ranked, raced to an 81-62 victory over Arkansas in the first round of the All-College Tournament at Oklahoma City. It was the eighth victory for the Ramblers and another triumph for Marschalls and the squashed basketball.

Loyola Coach George Ireland stumbled upon the Pierre, S.D., innovator two years ago. Marschalls had tampered slightly with the game Naismith invented and took the liberty of trimming the standard 18-inch rim to 15. The Ramblers used it prior to the season in six weeks of practice.

"I don't know where he makes these things," says Ireland, maybe in his basement, but I liked the idea right off. It has made us a better shooting team."

That's the way the not-shooting Ramblers felt as they moved into tonight's semifinals of the All-College—the oldest holiday tournament in the country, but only one of a host of major college extravaganzas holding the spotlight on the nation's basketball courts.

Here's a capsule rundown on the other results:
All-College—Memphis State advanced with Loyola, beating Toledo 76-71.

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U. outlasted Northwestern 75-50 and qualified for Saturday night's final along with UCLA, which topped St. Louis, 85-66.

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.—Unbeaten Georgia Tech edged Virginia Tech 73-72 in overtime and Florida defeated Rice 66-57 to set up tonight's final.

Hurricane Classic at Miami—Undefeated Miami crushed Cornell 94-74 and will take on Pitt, 96-73 conqueror of LSU, in tonight's windup.

Queen City at Buffalo, N.Y.—Sixth-ranked Arizona State squeezed by Rhode Island 89-83 and Canisius belted South Carolina 85-72.

Big Eight at Kansas City—Oklahoma State nipped Oklahoma 49-48 and Kansas State walloped Missouri 61-43 to complete the first round.

Far West Portland, Ore.—California outlasted Seattle 85-77 in overtime and Oregon State handed Idaho its first defeat 80-53 to complete the first round.

West Coast at San Francisco—St. Mary's whipped Los Angeles Loyola 83-71 and San Francisco beat Portland 56-50 to complete the first round.

Gulf South at Shreveport, La.—Eastern Kentucky edged TCU 69-65 and Southern Mississippi beat Northwestern Louisiana 85-71 to complete the first round.

Still in the spotlight, but outside the tournament limelight, two of the top ten elite came through with victories. Second-ranked Ohio State, getting 24 points from Gary Bradds, had to battle all the way to subdue stubborn Butler 68-62, but fifth-ranked Kentucky had no such problem with Dartmouth, winning 85-49.

Wide Open Grid Games Predicted

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Wide open football was predicted today for Saturday's Gator Bowl, East-West and Blue-Gray games and the Louisiana State-Texas Cotton Bowl meeting New Year's Day.

Rip Engle, whose Penn State 9-1 club meets Florida, 6-4, in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., wouldn't say right out he expected a high scoring game, but he hinted at it.

Charlie McClendon, LSU coach, said so right out. "It will be a wide open game," said Charlie.

McClendon's forecast was rather surprising considering that both teams are noted for their defense. But he explained that each squad would have to go all out offensively in order to crack the other's portals. Texas had a 9-0-1 record during the regular campaign while LSU was 8-1-1.

In San Francisco, scene of the East-West Shrine Game, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, assistant head coach Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue in readying the East squad, declared: "The skills are there to make for an offensive explosion."

With this in mind, Mollenkopf has been drilling his club on goal line stands as the practice session for each team began tapering off.

And, in Montgomery, Ala., where the Blue-Gray game will be played, both coaches, Tom Nugent, the Rebels' head man, and Bob Devaney of the North are planning wide-open-game strategy. Nugent is working up a shotgun formation with two wingbacks and split ends.

The remainder of the major bowl schedule coming up in the next week pits West Texas State and Ohio University, each with an 8-2 mark, in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex. Monday and three other games of New Year's Day, Southern California 10-0 against Wisconsin 8-1 in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.; Alabama 9-1 versus Oklahoma 8-2 in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. and Mississippi 9-0 against Arkansas 9-1 in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans.

There was good news for Oklahoma supporters, but sad tidings from the Southern California camp Thursday.

Flu-ridden Monte Deere, the Sooners' fine quarterback, rejoined his teammates and went through the full practice.

Meanwhile, Southern California was jolted as reserve back Ron Heller was injured and feared lost for the Rose Bowl game. Heller, a sophomore who netted 216 yards in 55 carries, suffered an injured left knee while blocking in a dummy scrimmage.

20 Cotton Seek Honor Beauties

MEMPHIS (AP) — Twenty sea date cottonbelt beauties primed for private interviews with the judges today as the "Maid of Cotton" contest neared its finale. The successor to Penne Percy of Waco, Tex., will be crowned late tonight before television cameras and an invitation-only audience of cottonmen and guests in City Auditorium.

The round of private talks with the judging panel took up most of yesterday. The aspiring maids do their swimsuit modeling at the closed door sessions, not in public.

Texas made the most massive bid for the title with seven entries — five brunettes and two blondes. There were four from Mississippi.

Tennessee and Oklahoma each had two beauties in the race with Arkansas, Alabama, California, Georgia and New Mexico sending one each.

Scarlett Cornwell of Dardanelle is Arkansas' entry in the contest. To the winner goes a six months tour to drum up publicity for cotton, plus an auto and an extensive wardrobe.

Her first official appearance as maid will be at the Cotton Bowl football game in Dallas New Year's Day. From there she flies to New York for modeling training and wardrobe fittings.

Contest officials said judging is on poise, personality, family background, a flair for fashion and beauty.
